Without your guidance I wouldn't have been confident and proud of who I am

Thank you so much for helping me get healthy, its still a struggle but with God's help I can get to where I need to be. Here is a thank you card from my wedding. I give it to you because you played a large part in me having the greatest day of my life, without your guidance I wouldn't of been confident and proud of who I am and what I looked like and I was able to just enjoy my day without5 being self conscious and ashamed of who I was, so from the bottom of my heart, thank you for your help and I thank god for fiving and blessing you with the talent and skills to make such a difference in peoples lives! I'm doing well. There have been some really tuff times, but God has helped me conquer them and move on. The weight is still a struggle but nothing like before. Again, I just wanted to say thank you so much!

God Bless
